

ROBUST REGISTRATION MANAGEMENT FOR CORPORATE TRAINING

What a Complete Registration Management System Looks Like

Streamlined class creation

Once you set up your first class registration as you want it, use that event as a template for other classes like it. Copy dozens of future classes at a time.

Mobile friendly

The pages and forms you design in Learning Stream automatically re-size to fit any mobile device, including smart phones and tablets. Students can sign up at their convenience.

Calendars and class pages

Format calendars and class descriptions with your branding. Include images, maps, attachments, and links to other information.

Robust reporting

Track and export data pertaining to registrant listings, registration question responses, and key analytics. Share filtered data with department supervisors.

Evaluations

Design customized evaluations, weight-score questions and even tie completion to an objective, such as receiving a certificate of completion, to improve participation.

Integration

Via a simple API process, extract key registration data such as name and registration status, and make the data available to other systems such as your LMS.

Oh, there is so much more →

 Multiple communication scenarios
Send invitations, automated reminders, special updates and messages in addition to standard confirmation, wait list, and cancellation messages.

 eLearning content
Reach more employees by uploading recorded webinars or other training videos. Track access, viewing and completion for each student.

 Registration imports
Bulk import registration data and add to a current event, or import and simultaneously create a new class.

 Single Sign-on
Via remote authentication, redirect registrants to secure, remote web pages hosted on your website to validate log-in credentials.

 Student portal
Give students access to their own registration and attendance information. Allow them to print transcripts for use in performance reviews, or issue them access to eLearning videos.

 Security
Keep employee data protected through password protocols, transport layer security (TLS) and a PCI-compliant environment.

Learning Stream streamlines the connection between you and your corporate learners with robust registration management software.

Learning Stream wants to make your registration management process as efficient as possible. That means a ton of listening on our part to ensure we understand your unique needs and how best to apply Learning Stream's robust functionality.

We offer the most feature-rich solution for corporate registration, so we train new users, guide them through the setup process, and even perform an audit before the first event goes live. We continue to support customers through their experience with Learning Stream, with live support that responds quickly.

We encourage customer feedback – it's how we built and improved our software over the years. We do our best to keep an ongoing conversation with customers through our support staff, newsletter, blog, constantly updated What's New and Help sections within our software, and periodic one-on-one communications with customers.
